Brief Explanation of Evidence:

Students are asked to research an ancient civilization of their choice from the three civilizations we study. They are to use the notes sheet provided to take notes on their research and then write a research report. They must also include a bibliography. They are learning to take notes from secondary sources and turn their notes into their own writing.

They also must create artifacts of the civilizations based on their research and present these to the class. They will create note cards for their presentation.
